NAVY PILOT OLSEN RESIGNS

Will Return to Private Life As Soon As Resignation Is Accepted

Captain C. O. Olsen for the past six years master of tugs at the navy yard today sent his resignation to the secretary of navy, which is as follows:

To the Hon. Secretary of Navy, Washington, D. C.
I herewith tender my resignation as master of tugs at the Portsmouth navy yard, the same to take effect on the acknowledgment of the same. (Signed) CHARLES O. OLSEN.

Mr. Olsen, who has been master since the age of 21, carries one of the best licenses for navigation either on sail or steam, that is issued in America.

He will shortly take up his former residence at Dennis, Mass., where he has a handsome home and will accept a position with a Boston steamboat company.

He is a most genial man to meet in any walk of life and has made a host of warm friends at the navy yard and in this city since he began his duty with the government.

He has been master of some of the largest merchant ships of the world and had an enviable reputation as a navigator before he became connected with the navy.

TO REMODEL BATTLESHIPS

Washington, April 29.—The navy department has announced that the sixteen battleships which made the trip around the world are to be remodelled, thus confirming the reports that have been current since the return of the fleet from the voyage around the world, that such changes are to be made.

It is proposed to go back to first principles. In other words, it is proposed to make of the sixteen battleships a type something like the old Monitor, save that the new type will have more freeboard. All the cumbersome superstructure which at present adorns the battleships and which affords a splendid mark to the enemy's guns will be taken off.

All that will appear above decks will be a turret fore and aft and the funnels for the boilers and a wire "waste basket" type of mast, which will be used for the lookouts.

The fighting masts are to be dispensed with. They have not only proved useless, but cumbersome and easily put out of commission. On the other hand, it has been proved that the wire basket type of mast is practically invulnerable and may be punctured many times without danger of collapse.

EARTHQUAKE IN AFRICA

Berlin, April 29.—An official dispatch received here reports severe earth shocks in Kamerun, West Africa, that have continued since Monday afternoon. The disturbances have compelled the colonial government to vacate Buea and remove temporarily to Duala. Buea lies on the slope of the Kamerun Mountain at an elevation of 3,000 feet. The mountains are volcanic, and 100 years ago some of the craters were active.

DUNLAP SHOOTING CASE BEFORE POLICE COURT

Harry O. Dunlap for the Assault on Howard C. Hersey

The hearing on the case of Harry O. Dunlap, who shot Howard C. Hersey on Tuesday night, came up in police court today before a large crowd of spectators, and consumed nearly all the forenoon.

City Solicitor Guy E. Corey, for the plaintiff, called Mrs. Almira Hersey, the mother of the boy who was shot, as the first witness. She testified that her son and herself met Dunlap on Fleet street at 11.30 that night and that she said as she passed him: "Here comes crazy." Her son asked Dunlap what he was hanging around there for and the answer he got was "None of his d-d business." Howard, she said, then pushed him, when he reached in his pocket, pulled the revolver and fired. Her boy exclaimed "Mother, I am shot in the neck!"

"I rushed to Dunlap and said: 'Now Harry, see what you have done.' He replied, saying, 'Let me alone,' and ran down the street. I called Buster Keefe and sent him for a doctor.

"I never knew the boys to have any trouble before."

Cross examined by Attorney John W. Kelley, she admitted that the family as a whole were not good friends with Dunlap. Said she was 53 years old, the mother of eleven children, most of them boys. Relative to her daughter not living with Dunlap since they were married, she claimed he had made threats to kill her, even before they were married.

She attributed it to a jealous disposition. She considered him crazy because he had watched her house all day on the date of the shooting and also the house of Thaddeus Locke.

In the matter of jealousy, Attorney Kelley brought out the fact that her daughter had been at the home of Mr. Locke when she did cooking, against the protests of her husband, after Mr. Locke's wife died.

Mrs. Hersey said she believed that Dunlap was hanging around to shoot Locke and that her daughter had not been out of the house for three weeks on account of Dunlap, who had chased her to the shoe shop.

Howard Hersey, the plaintiff, was next heard. He told the same story as his mother, but denied even striking Dunlap. Cross examined by Attorney Kelley: "I have no record as a fighter," said Hersey, "and have had no trouble with Dunlap since five months ago, when I heard him threaten my sister and I told him I would knock his head off."

"Did you kick him," asked the attorney? "No, I did not," answered Hersey, "but you can bet if I did I would have done a good job."

Dr. George L. Pender testified to attending Hersey at the office of R. H. Beacham and later at his office.

He described the wound as three-fourths of an inch in length, and one-quarter inch wide, made in a slanting direction. The wound showed small indication of powder.

He later located and extracted the .32 calibre bullet. He was not examined by Attorney Kelley.

Capt. Marden of the night police, was the next witness heard, and testified that it was 12.5 when Dunlap

He said, "Hello, Captain, I have trimmed Hersey." I asked him what had happened and he explained the trouble on Fleet street. His face was cut and bleeding and held a broken tooth in his hand which he said Hersey broke out by a blow."

Cross examined by Attorney Kelley: "Have you ever had any complaint from Dunlap before?" "Yes, he has been at the station where he complained of abuse by one Hersey, but I do not know which Hersey it was."

Officer West related the facts of finding the revolver at Dunlap's home, the mattress, after information given him by Dunlap. The officer thought Dunlap a well behaved young man and had never heard of him getting into trouble."

At this point Attorney Kelley addressed the court and said he would put Dunlap on the stand, and would show it was a clear case of self defence. He told that his client had not lived a day with his wife since the marriage and who encouraged Dunlap before he became the daughter's husband. He claimed after Dunlap had been first attacked by Hersey he was obliged to defend himself, when he saw him coming back the second time. Dunlap was watching the house of Mr. Locke that night expecting to find his wife there, which he had a right to do, and was attempting strictly to his own business.

"The young man," said Attorney Kelley, "has pleaded with them all to be allowed to provide a good home for the daughter, but the family have been arrayed against him, without any just cause."

Dunlap, the last witness called, said he was born in Boston, and had been living in Portsmouth twelve years; became acquainted with his wife eight years ago, at school. She had several times called at his home on School street, and for six months before marriage he was a steady visitor at her home, and was always welcome.

Once, when they became engaged, he went to her and on account of hard times, asked her to postpone the wedding. She was agreeable, and named July 2, as a later date.

"The marriage was on the quiet and I wanted to let her folks know, but she would not let me tell them. I went to her home and found her crying. The folks would not let me in. We had some trouble but again made up. I have found her at the house of Mr. Locke."

The rest of his testimony was in relation to the trouble on the street, when he claimed he was punched and knocked down by Hersey, and that he was obliged to shoot in self defence.

The case rested at this point and it was agreed between the court, solicitor and Attorney Kelley that a new writ should be instituted, covering the case as an aggravated assault. The same evidence will stand under the new writ, under which the court will hold Dunlap for the higher tribunal, and admit him to bail.

Charles Staples of Portsmouth has entertained a party of neighbors at his cottage on the South Eliot shore.

The Eliot Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Cyrus Bartlett on Friday afternoon.

WAR GOVERNOR OF VERMONT

Frederick Holbrook Dies at a Ripe Old Age

AN ADVISER OF LINCOLN

His Service at Personal Interview Followed by Final Call For Troops Which Ended War—Interest in Embryonic Military Affairs Proved Useful in His Duties as Chief Executive of Green Mountain State

Brattleboro, Vt., April 29.—Frederick Holbrook, former governor of Vermont, the oldest ex-governor in the country, and one of the last of the Civil war governors, died at his home here last night, aged 96 years. Death was due to exhaustion, brought on by a recent attack of bronchitis. He retained his faculties to the last moment, and before he died gave his final instructions as to the disposition of his household affairs.

His death was so unexpected that time was not available to summon to the former governor's bedside his only living child, Franklin S. Holbrook of Boston.

Mr. Holbrook was one of the closest of President Lincoln's conferees among the state governors, and his advice at a personal interview was followed by the final call for troops which brought an end to the war.

Frederick Holbrook was born at Warehouse Point, Conn., Feb. 15, 1813. His parents were from Brattleboro, Vt., and they returned there in his infancy. His education was finished at Berkshire Gymnasium, Pittsfield, Mass.

In 1834 Holbrook married Miss Harriet Goodhue of Burlington. He had three children, but one of whom is now living.

His interest in embryonic military affairs led to his election as captain of the Floodwood Militia company at the age of 18 years, and the experience gained in this capacity proved of use in his later duties as governor during the Civil war.

Mr. Holbrook was a Republican in politics. As a member of this party he was elected to the Vermont senate in 1849-50, and was governor of the state in 1861-63. During his term as governor he floated $1,500,000 of bonds at a premium, and equipped many regiments of troops.

His most notable act in office was to devise means for the care of injured soldiers, and it was through him that Vermont was the first state to provide hospitals for its soldiers.

Washington, April 29.—President Taft has accepted the offer of the chamber of commerce rooms at Beverly, Mass., for use as executive offices during his stay at the summer "White House" on Beverly Cove. A member of the White House staff is now at Beverly arranging for the installation of government telegraph and telephone wires.

CHINAMEN FORFEIT BONDS

Had Been Arrested For Being in United States Illegally

New York, April 29.—Seven Chinamen, who were found in a freight car at Morristown, N. J., last February, half dead from cold and hunger, have in effect paid $500 each for the privilege of remaining in this country.

Each forfeited bail in this amount by failing to appear before a United States commissioner yesterday in Hoboken. When captured in the freight car all put up cash bonds. The $3500 will be sent to Washington.

LOVED ART MORE THAN LIFE

Denver, April 29.—Herman Linde, an art instructor who came from New York in 1906 and said he possessed art works valued at $500,000 stored in New York, is dead. Linde refused all offers to purchase his paintings. It is said, and he died in poverty as to necessities of life.

"THE CONQUEST" A FAILURE

Pittsburg, April 29.—This city entertained distinguished guests today in the persons of Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States; Joaquin Nabuco, the Brazilian ambassador; Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York city, and Alfred East, the famous English painter. The occasion was the founder's day celebration of the Carnegie Institute.

At the exercises the first speaker was Count von Bernstorff, who spoke on "The Constitution of the German Empire." Mr. Nabuco's topic was "Social and Political Relations Between North and South America." Director Clarke talked on "Art and People," and Mr. East delivered the final address on "Art Tendencies of the Carnegie Institute."

THREATENED WITH DEATH

Interpreters Dare Not Give Satisfactory Evidence Against Chinamen

Pittsburg, April 29.—Chinese highlanders are interfering with the trial of six Chinamen arrested here recently in a raid made by officers on what was supposed to be a branch of a lottery in San Francisco and a postponement of the case was found necessary.

When a local interpreter failed to give satisfactory testimony, Joseph T. Lee of Philadelphia was brought here under guard. For five minutes his guard left him and when he was called to testify he trembled, began a rambling conversation and asserted that the documents secured in the raid were extracts from the Chinese "Second Reader."

It developed that both interpreters had been threatened with death by a highlander society if they gave testimony against the accused.

BURGLARY AND ARSON CHARGES TO ANSWER

Wealthy Man Suspected of Committing Serious Crimes

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 29.—Herbert R. Clark, a wealthy young resident of Rhinebeck, was acquitted by a supreme court jury here of burglary in the third degree. There are five other indictments against Clark, charging burglary and arson. One of them charges Clark with setting fire to the handsome mansion of Robert Huntington at Rhinebeck, which was destroyed, the loss being $50,000.

According to the evidence of the witnesses for the prosecution, Clark and his alleged accomplices had been reading dime novels previous to the robbery.

Clark's attorney referred to his client as an "unsophisticated city boy in the country." Clark, who is 29 years old, is married and has a son.

LEASE FOR CHILDREN

Novel Method For Prevention of Accidents in Central Park

New York, April 29.—"Children on Leash" is a novelty which is attracting considerable attention in Central Park. The little boys and girls are connected to the nurses who have them in charge by means of chains not unlike those used for dogs.

The innovation has been adopted here because of the danger of children running out beyond the curb under the wheels of vehicles which crowd the park drives.

The chains are about twice the length of an ordinary dog chain. One end is fastened to a belt around the waist of the child, while the other end is held by the nurse. The children seemed to enjoy the novel captivity.

ABDUL HAMID ABOVE THE LAW

Not to Be Put on Trial For His Many Crimes

WILL BE KEPT PRISONER

Has Four Wives and Others of His Family, Together With Many Servants, For Company—Constitutionalists Want Part of Vast Fortune Accumulated by Deposed Ruler—New Sultan Making Good Impression

Constantinople, April 29.—The former ruler of the empire, Abdul Hamid II, is to be kept a prisoner in a large house with walled grounds on a height overlooking Saloniki, which has lately been occupied by the Italian commander of the International gen d'armes.

He is not to be put on trial, for he is considered to be above the law. It was thought wise to keep the deposed sultan in European Turkey, remote from the capital. His household will be administered for him upon a generous scale and his life will be safeguarded, as he earnestly besought when notified of his dethronement.

Abdul Hamid, with four wives, five daughters and two of his younger sons, two eunuchs and a comparatively large number of female servants, was taken from the Yildiz palace Tuesday night and started under an escort to Saloniki. The party proceeded by steam launches to the landing near the railway, and a special train, on which they were placed, left at 3 o'clock in the morning.

The Constitutionalists would like to get back part of the great sums of money that the former sultan is supposed to have abroad, not only because the government is in need of money, but because it is desirable that he should be deprived of the resources for another coup d'etat. Speculation places Abdul Hamid's wealth at anything between $25,000,000 and $200,000,000.

It was mentioned with pleasure at the palace of Mehmed V that the American ambassador was the first of the foreign representatives to communicate his good wishes to the newly proclaimed sultan. The sultan sent his compliments and thanks to Mr. Leishman, expressing pleasure that the representative of the United States was the first to congratulate him.

Although Wednesday was a holiday, courtmartial were held and several of the principals in the mutiny of the troops were condemned to death. Later they were taken outside the walls of the city and shot.

The huge square inside the railings of the war office presented an unusual scene yesterday afternoon. Thousands of soldiers of the late garrison were seated, cross-legged, in companies in a great semi-circle, while officers made the rounds and picked out those suspected of active complicity in the mutiny. The men, however, were cheerful. They chatted and smoked and appeared to bear their disgrace lightly.

Mahmoud Scheffket Pasha, commanding the forces, has intimated his intention to purify the capital of all subversive elements and to establish a salutary example to the army. For this purpose the state of siege will be prolonged for probably a month, although it will be relaxed somewhat in the European quarter very soon.

Mehmed V is attending to his court duties, receiving various officials at Dolmabahce palace, where he has taken up his quarters in a plain and unceremonious manner. Access to the palace is easy and the sultan's conversation is familiar, the whole being in striking contrast with the conditions that prevailed at the Yildiz. The absence of troops at the palace is marked, and only a few policemen are on duty at the entrance.

Most of the volunteers will leave for their homes today after being entertained at a farewell banquet outside the city walls.

GOLFING AT ATLANTIC CITY

Spring Event on Links Near the Ocean Attracts Enthusiasts

Atlantic City, N. J., April 29.—Golfers from Philadelphia, New York and other cities began play today in the spring event on the local links. Play will continue three days.

The popularity of the links near the ocean always attracts a large number of golfing enthusiasts to Atlantic City, and there is much good natured rivalry between the Gotham and Quaker City players. Other parts of the country are also represented in the tournament.

MINERS' AGREEMENT

WITH OPERATORS

Demand For Official Recognition of Union Is Waived

Seranton, Pa., April 29.—The final stage in the work of settling the differences existing between the anthracite mine workers and their employers has been reached.

The tri-district convention of the union miners unanimously approved the three-year agreement reached by their representatives with the operators and authorized them to sign it today in Philadelphia. The agreement is practically identical with the one signed three years ago in New York.

The United Mine Workers' union, under the agreement, is not officially recognized, the miners having waived this demand. The agreement will be signed by the miners' representatives without any official reference to the organization.

THIRTY THOUSAND DEAD

Turkish Troops Resume Massacre of Armenians in Adana

London, April 29.—A special dispatch from Mersina says:

Two Turkish regiments, which landed here Saturday, proceeded to Adana, where they resumed, late Sunday night, the wholesale murdering of Armenians and the burning of their property. Thousands were burned to death, while those who attempted to escape were shot down by the troops. The destruction of the town of Adana is complete.

The loss of life in the whole province of Adana is estimated at 30,000. The losses of Europeans in property are enormous. The British and foreign warships here are inactive.

TAFT ASSURES OUR FRIENDSHIP

Great Things Expected of Turkey's New Ruler

TROUBLES IN PROVINCES

Suppression of Massacres the Most Important Duty of Young Turks, From the American Standpoint—Two of Our Cruisers Will Soon Be Available in the Mediterranean—Another Follows in a Few Weeks

Washington, April 29.—Mehmed V, the new sultan of Turkey, has been officially recognized as the reigning ruler of that empire by the Washington government. This action followed the communication of the fact of the accession to the throne of the new sultan to the state department by H. Klazim Bey, the Turkish ambassador, and similar information from American Ambassador Leishman at Constantinople. A dispatch according recognition, signed by President Taft, was forwarded to Constantinople for presentation by the ambassador there.

MEHMEH V.

President Taft's congratulations to Mehmed V were in the following words:

"I offer to your imperial majesty my congratulations on your accession to the throne with such universal acclaim, voiced by the people's representatives, and at a time so propitious to the highest aspirations of the great nation over which you rule as the august head of an excellent government. I assure you of the friendship of the government and of the people of the United States, who earnestly wish for your majesty's happiness and for that of the people within your dominions, and I add my own wishes for your majesty's health and welfare."

A favorable impression has been created in Washington by the remarks attributed to the sultan in his public utterances and the confident hope is expressed that Turkey is about to enter upon a new era of successful constitutional government. This was the view of H. Klazim Bey in his talk with the state department officials. He is also very optimistic touching the troubles which beset Turkey in the provinces, where the fanaticism of the Mohammedans has resulted in such dreadful slaughter.

From the American standpoint, the permanent improvement in the conditions in Asia Minor and other portions of Turkey where massacres of Armenians occur is the most important duty that confronts the new government. It is in dealing with this question that the faith and capacity of the Young Turks party will be put to a severe test.

Meantime, to meet the situation in Asia Minor, the state department is arranging to put to the best use the American war vessels now gradually approaching Gibraltar. In a measure the disposition of these ships will be left to the American embassy at Constantinople.

The vessels soon to be available are the armored cruisers North Carolina and Montana, now on their way across the Atlantic, and the revenue cutter Tacoma, which arrived at the Azores Wednesday and which was directed to proceed with all haste for Gibraltar.

Announcement is made of the intention of sending the cruiser New York to eastern Mediterranean waters about the middle of next month. The three cruisers, therefore, will form an emergency Mediterranean squadron. The state department determined that there shall be an adequate naval representation in Turkish waters, to the end that as far as possible American lives and property shall not be sacrificed and destroyed.

RELATIVES ARE TESTIFYING

Attempts to Prove That Captain Hains' Mind Is Unbalanced

Flushing, N. Y., April 29.—General Peter C. Hains, the defendant's father, was the first witness called this morning, as the defense for Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., continues its attempts to establish the insanity of the army officer who shot and killed William E. Anns at the Dayside Yacht club last August.

After General Hains leaves the stand he will be followed by Major Hains, the captain's brother, and then by some thirty witnesses, all of whom will testify concerning Hains' irrational acts following the revelation of his wife's alleged infidelity and her association with Anns, as contended by the prisoner's lawyers.

Captain Hains showed little emotion during his counsel's vivid narration of his life and marital troubles. But one time he bowed his head in his arms on the counsel table where he sat, as Young spoke of the captain's three small children. For a brief moment he appeared to realize his grief.

THE JORDAN DEFENSE

Efforts to Show That Alleged Wife Murderer Is Insane

Cambridge, Mass., April 29.—The mental peculiarities of Chester S. Jordan, on trial for the murder of his wife, were set forth by relatives and friends Wednesday as bearing upon the basis of the defense, which is that Jordan was not responsible for the crime.

That Jordan was a backward child, subject to fits and "tantrums," was the main part of the testimony offered by the defense.

Four alienists, two each representing the defense and the government, were closeted with Jordan in the jail last night for three hours. The defense had agreed to allow the district attorney to have two representatives at such an interview.

WOMAN'S DEAD BODY BETWEEN MATTRESSES

Indications of a Murder Mystery in New Bedford

New Bedford, Mass., April 29.—The body of Hattie Carter, a negroess, about 30 years of age, was found in an upper room of a tenement on Water street, the circumstances pointing to murder. From the progress of decomposition it is thought that death occurred at least two weeks ago. The woman had recently paid a fine of $50 on a charge of keeping a disorderly house.

Decomposition had set in to such an extent that the police were unable to say positively that the woman was murdered. The fact that the head was covered with a sheet tightly wrapped about it, that the body was between two mattresses and that the bed had been broken as if in a struggle, made it very improbable that the woman had taken her own life. Nothing was found in the room, however, to furnish a clue to the identity of her supposed murderer.

MARS MUST WAIT

Unlikely to Receive Signals From Mother Earth For a While

Baltimore, April 29.—Professor Robert M. Wood is sceptical as to the possibility of signalling to Mars, and in any event, will give little serious thought to the matter for some time. Just now he is engaged in experiment with a mercury reflecting telescope 20 inches in diameter, but says that up to the present time he has not seriously contemplated the construction of a larger instrument.

"Even if it were possible to build a reflector 20 or even 100 feet in diameter," he says, "it is questionable at least whether we could see very much more of planetary detail on account of atmospheric disturbances."

Good Will Toward Veterans

Washington, April 29.—Any possible doubt as to President Taft's attitude towards the veterans of the Spanish-American war was removed when, in a letter written to Commander Rausch of the Department of the District of Columbia, C. S. W. V., he expressed the utmost good will and highest appreciation of the work performed by that body of men in the late conflict with Spain.

A local real estate company is behind the project.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY SERVICE

The announcement is made at Bangor by President John R. Graham of the Bangor railway and electric company, who is connected with other electric roads and power plants in Maine, that surveys will begin at once for a proposed electric road which will be the connecting link between the eastern and western sections of the state and make a continuous track from Bangor and suburbs to New York.

The proposed route begins at the terminus at East Corinth, on the Charleston division, twenty miles northwest from Bangor, thence runs directly west through Exeter and Garland to Dexter, thence the route would be southwest through St. Albans, Hartford and Canaan to Skowhegan, on the Kenebec river. At Shawmut, thirteen miles down the river, connection would be made with the Fairfield and Shawmut line, at Fairfield with the Waterville & Fairfield railroad and at Waterville with the through line already in operation via Augusta, Gardiner, Lewiston, Brunswick, Portland, Biddeford, Kennebunk, and Kittery to New Hampshire and thence via the lines from Portsmouth to Massachusetts and the great states beyond Massachusetts.

No definite announcements have been made, but it is said to be probable that the Dover, Dexter and Bangor connection will receive the first attention, but that the "link" to Skowhegan and Shawmut is matter of only a short time. A chief engineer has been engaged for the preliminary surveys and a party is being made up. The proposed new route would mean the building of about sixty miles of road through a rich farming country, much of which is not now on a railroad line. The cross country route from Dexter to Skowhegan is entirely remote from any railroad.

Another line is also under survey in Maine at this time, a direct route from Lewiston to Portland which will be, if built, some twenty miles shorter than the present electric route via Brunswick. At least four other electric railroad extensions are planned for the near future, one of them an important stretch to connect the Augusta region line with the Portland suburban valley line at Waterville. These lines are all with the avowed purpose of catering to the traveling tourists, those people who travel somewhat economically and who see the country as they go. Hundreds of these people visited Portsmouth from all over New England and Maine last season and their number is increasing.

Portsmouth must do more than to accommodate these people. The very important thing is that all these lines should run into Bangor square.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Old York Appeals

The people who live in the oldest town in the state of Maine in town of York have decided that they will appeal to the legislature of the state to reverse the decree of its legislature to cut their town in twain. The residents of York have decided to do the proper thing, expensive though it may prove to be.

the people of York to decide among themselves whether their town should be divided and of course the legislature had a right to so refuse what was plainly but a just and right proposition. It was clearly the purpose of the legislature on the York division matter to force division down the throats of the people of that town regardless of protest or apparent injustice. But that can no longer be done under the referendum, except by way of the emergency clause, and although a general election upon a question of only local importance will be expensive, yet it is better to call out the voters of the state than to allow such a plain injustice upon the people of one town as the legislature attempted upon the folks of old York.

It is altogether likely that the state house enlargement measure will go in the ballot box, and if so, the York division matter might be voted upon at the same time. Coupled with such an important question as the expenditure of $350,000 it is likely that a larger vote would be given the appeal of the York petitioners and in favor of a popular vote than would be the case if the town division should not accompany any other question on the ballot.

In deciding to take their case to the people of Maine, the citizens of York show the true American spirit. They defend their traditions. They preserve their history. They object to legislative tyranny. They deserve to win and they will win for their appeal will be decided by the popular will—Waterville Sentinel.

The Concentration of Money

Prof. W. H. Scott, of the department of political economy of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and one of the best known political economists in the country, spoke before the Sunset club, in Milwaukee, last week, and while his assertions, not entirely new caused considerable surprise and provoked much interest. Professor Scott declared that the banking reserve of the entire country is practically in the hands of Standard Oil and the Morgan interests, saying:

"The most serious and difficult problem the United States has ever come in contact with its control of the banking reserve. At present seven or eight banks hold the vast percentage of the reserves. In fact, it is practically in the hands of the Morgan interests and the Standard Oil. This vast fund in the vaults of associated banks belongs to all the great financial institutions of the country. It is subject to their drafts. A stream of gold flows from these vaults to Europe, or from Europe to them. The administration of a fund like this is a matter of concern to every business institution in the United States.

"Sharp distinction should be drawn between commercial and financial banking. Commercial banking refers to ordinary commercial exchanges and to commerce. Financial banking is for the financing of railroads, the sinking of mines, the building of factories. Funds should not be diver-

A SQUARE DEAL AND A SQUARE MEAL

Here's a square deal for the people who can't eat a square meal without after pain and distress. Go to Goodwin E. Philbrick's today and get a box of Goodwin E. Philbrick's, the great prescription for indigestion and stomach troubles.

Take one, or if your suffering is intense, two tablets with or after meals and at the end of 10 days if you can't eat a square meal without distress go to Goodwin E. Philbrick's and get your money back.

That's where the square deal comes in.

But Mi-na is really a stomach up-builder of great merit; every day the makers receive more than a dozen letters from grateful people which state that after using both Mi-na and Hyomei.

The quick and positive action of Mi-na on the stomach in case of indigestion, flatulence, acid stomach and heartburn is worth a lot of money to any sufferer.

It is those suffering from indigestion who suffered from severe pains in my stomach. I tried different remedies without relief; after using two boxes of Mi-na I found myself completely cured.

Mi-na is sold by leading druggists.

HYOMEI

ted from one to another. The banking reserve should not be used for financing of railroads, the sinking of mines, the building of factories. You all recall incidents of such misuse.

"On of the great problems of the day is to remove the administration of this reserve from private interests. It is far too important to be used for anything but the commercial interests of the entire country; it must not be in the hands of men whose primary interest is not commerce, but finance.

"The time has come when the banking and corporation laws should be overhauled. There have been enormous changes since they were put into operation. The Standard Oil and Morgan interests alone have well nigh reached a position where they can control the prices of all securities on the market. It has been stated that these two interests manipulated the recent panic in order to bring Mr. Roosevelt into disrepute. This I do not believe. But the times are not infrequent when they could bring a panic when they want to.

"A central bank is the only solution of the banking problem. It need not necessarily be a government bank, but it must be run in the interests of the general public. A splendid central bank could be developed from our present independent treasury system.

"Bankers are making a great mistake in opposing postal banks. They would be a great benefit to the banking interests. In fact, I believe that they would bring an increase in deposits."—American Banker.

Get Next to the People

In his "Reminiscences of Sixty Years in Public Affairs," Hon. George S. Boutwell says of Hon. Henry Wilson: "He made the acquaintance of all the reporters, editors and publishers wherever he went. He frequented restaurants and saloons to ascertain public sentiment. In political campaigns he was the prophet, foretelling results with unusual accuracy."

Perhaps Mr. Boutwell has given the reason for this "unusual accuracy." Certainly no man in his day was so accurate in his political forecasts as Henry Wilson. They were often contrary to popular opinion, but were almost invariably sustained by the election returns.—Belfast Journal.

A CUP FOR MOSES

Manchester Greeks Give Testimonial to Minister to Greece.

Manchester, April 29.—The Greek-American citizens of Manchester, through their representatives, on Wednesday presented to George H. Moses of Concord, the recently appointed United States minister to Greece, a beautiful testimonial in the form of a solid silver water pitcher. The presentation came about through the desire on the part of the modern representatives of the ancient Hellenic race residing in Manchester, to show their appreciation for the selection of a native of New Hampshire to represent this country at the court of King George. The gift selected was a beautiful specimen of the silversmiths' art, finished with polished surface, with simple thread border.

Arrangements having been made previously for meeting Mr. Moses at his Concord home, a delegation, consisting of Vice President William Costakis, F. Garos, former President James Vassos, and accompanied by the Greek Orthodox priest, went to Concord, bearing the testimonial.

They were received in a most courteous manner by Mr. Moses. There were present the members of Mr. Moses' family. The presentation was made by Peter Crown, acting as spokesman for the delegation.

Mr. Moses, in responding, spoke of the ardent desire he had always held of sometime visiting the capitals of Europe and especially the beautiful city of Athens. He considered himself happy in being nominated to the court of Greece as thus his early dream could be accomplished. He said that he could report, from what he had seen of the Greek merchants in this country, that they were enterprising, progressive and worthy representatives.

Mr. Moses in responding, spoke of the delegation by proposing a toast to King George of Greece, conching it perfectly in modern Greek.

Mr. Crown gave Mr. Moses a letter of introduction to his god father, Constantine Poyamahalopoulos, who was formerly minister of education in the Greek cabinet and a distinguished orator in the Greek parliament.

Many farmers are of the opinion that the early stuff planted, will have to be replanted owing to the cold weather that prevailed the past week.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

MISS EDNA WESCOTT UNITED IN MARRIAGE TO JOSEPH W. KEENE OF KITTERY.

A very pretty home wedding took place at six o'clock, Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dimick, Jr., No. 9 Tanner street, when her sister Miss Edna Wescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wescott of Newfoundland, was united in marriage with Joseph Wentworth Keene of Kittery. Only the relatives and immediate friends were present.

The house was very prettily decorated with evergreen, palms and ferns with roses and pinks being used in the hall, parlor and dining rooms. The ceremony took place in the parlor at six o'clock and was performed by Rev. Charles Le V. Brine, rector of the Christ church, the Episcopal service being used.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a dress of white silk baptiste trimmed with Valenciennes insertion, lace yoke and a sash of liberty satin ribbon. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maidenhair fern.

She was attended by Miss Edith Keene of Kittery a sister of the groom, and she was gowned in pink silk trimmed with white lace and carried a bouquet of pinks.

The best man was Mr. Alvah Frost of Kittery a close friend of the groom. A wedding reception followed the ceremony and a wedding supper of salads, ices and etc were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Keene left on the evening train on a wedding tour to Boston and New York and on their return will reside at No. 9 Tanner street. The bride's going away gown was a tailor made suit of olive blue broadcloth. She wore a straw hat of old rose trimmed with black velvet ribbon and roses.

The bride has for several years been the efficient bookkeeper for Charles E. Traflet Co., and has a host of friends. The groom is a popular employee of the manufacturing department of the Navy Yard in the machine shop and a popular member of the Portsmouth Athletic Club.

They received many handsome presents, including silver, cut glass and linens, the A. Y. S. club of which the bride is a member sending a handsome center piece, hand worked.

Exeter, April 29.—Fire Wednesday night, caused losses of $5000 or more, at the three story wooden store and tenement building on upper Front street, owned by Elbridge A. and George M. Goodwin. Its three stories are occupied by the owners as a branch grocery, and Frank Gethro, barber and pool room and Albert S. Weherell, branch drug store. The four tenements are occupied by Mrs. Arthur Farnham, James Swinehammer, A. F. Abbott and F. M. Kethro. They have in all a dozen rooms. The fire started from unknown causes in Goodwin Brothers' storeroom, and worked up to the roof, spreading as it went, mainly in the Farnham and Swinehammer flats. Two hours' hard work was entailed on the firemen. All losses are probably covered by insurance.

Matters adjusted Wednesday at the session of probate court included the will of Sarah A. Marden, which gives to the Middle Street Baptist church of Portsmouth, $300 to be used as the trustees see fit, and also $208 to the South cemetery for the care of the family lot.

A very pleasant affair was held on Wednesday evening by the members of Sagamore lodge, Independent Order Odd Fellows in commemoration of the ninetieth anniversary of the founding of Oddfellowship in America. A large number of the members were present and an excellent programme of events arranged. A large representation of members of Fraternity lodge of Rehoboth was present. Light refreshments were served.

Swanscott circle, Foresters of America, is to hold its annual entertainment and ball on May 7.

Dr. A. J. Herrick, who for several years has practiced as a veterinary here, on Wednesday disposed of his entire stock at public auction.

The Exeter Athletic association has organized with a strong baseball nine and has arranged several games with strong teams in this locality.

Robert F. Day of Springfield, Mass. and Miss Clara Castle of Quincy, Ill., were married at the home of the bride's parents, Col. and Mrs. C. H. Castle on Tuesday, by the Rev. Dr. S. H. Dana of Quincy, here for the purpose.

Exeter Academy had it all her own way on Wednesday afternoon and won most handsly from University of Maine. Maine scored first on a wild throw by Borchardt and after that the Pine Tree men never saw the plate. In the ninth three hits of Litchfield were made, he having relieved Baines, in the seventh. Exeter showed much improvement in its play, hitting Ryan, Maine's best pitcher, almost at will, and their fielding was good. Baines pitched a strong game, allowing Maine only three hits.

Exeter high school on Wednesday defeated Sanborn seminary three to two, excelling both at bat and in the field.

Following is the completed baseball schedule of the high school, all games to be played here unless otherwise stated: May 1, Phillips Exeter '11; May 3, Exeter clerks; May 5, Amesbury high at Amesbury; May 12, Dummer academy at Biddeford; May 17, Exeter clerks; May 20, Phillips Exeter '10; May 31, Portsmouth high at Portsmouth; June 2, Newburyport high; June 7, Exeter clerks; June 12, Puncbard high of Andover.

NAVAL OFFICERS PHYSIQUE
Newporters Taking the Roosevelt Strenuous Life Test This Week

Newport, R. I., April 23.—Commander William F. Fullam of the Naval Training Station at Newport completed his "enduring test" on Wednesday afternoon, making 60 miles in two consecutive days. The test calls for 30 miles, but Commander Fullam went a few extra so that it could not be said later that his yardstick was too short and his distance not great enough. Commander Fullam went about 30 miles each day, at an average of three miles an hour.

Lieut. F. R. McCrary of the Torpedo Station completed his bicycle test the same day, having ridden 30 miles in 10 hours. He made 70 miles in one day and 30 the next.

Both men were in excellent condition when they finished. Lieut. J. V. Babcock will start his bicycle test Monday. Commander W. B. Fletcher and Lieut. L. A. Cotton of the War College have already finished their walking tests.

AFRAID TO EAT

Dr. A. E. Sawyer's Letter About his Wonderful Cure By Taking Sagwa.

This well known veterinary of Waterville, Maine, doctor for many months for indigestion and stomach troubles without any beneficial results and then was completely restored to health by Kickapoo Sagwa.

Dr. A. E. Sawyer noted Veterinary of Waterville, Maine.

Waterville, Maine, Nov. 21st 1908

The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co.

Gentlemen;

For seven years I have suffered untold misery from indigestion and stomach trouble. At times I have been so badly off that the sight of a glass of water would cause me agonizing pain. I had no appetite; in fact became afraid to eat, as even the lightest food caused me great distress.

I have taken nearly everything on the market recommended to cure Dyspepsia and have spent a great amount of money with different Physicians without receiving any benefit. During your free demonstration in our city I was induced to try one of your sample bottles of Kickapoo Sagwa, with the result, that after taking the contents I felt so greatly benefited that I decided to take a thorough course of the Sagwa.

I have received the greatest amount of benefit from the medicine and I cannot speak too highly in its praise. I haven't had such an appetite or been so well in eleven years as I am at the present time. I am stronger, and my food does not distress me; I eat anything I wish, and sleep well nights. I feel so grateful for the relief obtained by taking the Kickapoo Sagwa that I cheerfully give the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co. my full permission to publish the foregoing statement, hoping that it may come before the notice of others similarly afflicted.

Mr. A. E. Sawyer.

Witness: Mr. Fred Laschus.

There is a world of encouragement to all sufferers in Dr. Sawyer's letter; for it shows plainly that they can be cured, even if doctors have failed, if they will take a course of treatment with Kickapoo Sagwa. Sagwa is nature's own remedy for all disorders of the Stomach and Liver and it is from the derangement of these organs that all sickness and suffering comes.

The above testimonial—only one of many that we have received from reputable people living in Maine who have been cured by Kickapoo Sagwa—should convince any one suffering with stomach, kidney or liver disease, that Sagwa will cure.

However, if you are suffering with diseased stomach, liver or kidneys, and have any doubt about Kickapoo Sagwa curing you, we ask you to go to any druggist and purchase a bottle of Sagwa, with the understanding that if you can honestly say, after you have used the entire bottle, that you have not received any benefit from it, the druggist will refund your money to you and we pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you. We know that Sagwa will cure diseased stomach, kidneys and liver; and are, therefore, willing to make the above bone-fide straightforward offer to those who doubt the effectiveness of Sagwa.

BRILLIANT
WEDDING

MISS MARION GATES ROBY OF NASHUA BECOMES THE BRIDE OF MR. CHARLES A. TOWLE OF THIS CITY, AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, NASHUA, WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The First Congregational church at Nashua, was the scene at six o'clock Wednesday evening of a very brilliant wedding when Miss Marion Gates Roby, the eldest daughter of Major and Mrs. Charles Abbott Roby of Nashua, became the wife of Charles Augustus Towle, only son of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Skates Towle of this city, in the presence of a fashionable gathering of the society people of Nashua.

The church was handsomely decorated, a color scheme of green and white being used and to obtain this a profusion of ferns, palms and white roses and Easter lilies were used.

There was a large gathering of friends and relatives, the guests being shown to their seats by the following ushers. Luther Abbott Roby, brother of Nashua, Donald Dickey Tuttle, Milford, N. H., Ralph Sexton, Nashua, Carl Gage, Haverhill, Bernard Haynes, Portsmouth, Frank Grant Peters, McKeesport, Pa., James Crowley, Nashua, they wore full dress and wore the gift of the groom scarf pins.

At six o'clock the bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by the organist, Mrs. James H. Tolles, and they came down the aisle in the following order. Bridesmaids in single file, maid of honor and bride leaning on the arm of her father, who later gave her away in marriage. The ushers at the same time came down the side aisle.

They were met at the chancel rail by the groom and the best man, Paul Whitcomb of Boston, and the ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, Rev. Cyrus Richardson, the single ring service being used.

The bridesmaids, seven in number were: Misses Julia Wallace, Helen Norwell, Helen Barr, Ruth Sexton, Helen Ward, Elizabeth Swart, Gertrude Pierce all of Nashua and they were gowned in empire dresses of white messaline with berths of Irish point lace edged with fringe and rosettes of green messaline. The back was caught in two drapings with ornaments of same material in clasp effect. They carried bouquets of white sweet peas and green.

The maid of honor was Miss Kathleen Roby a sister of the bride and she wore a medieval gown of moustaine de sole with satin ribbon stripes over yellow with trimmings of same and rhine stone ornaments, the graceful drapings of the dress were caught with the same ornaments. The maid of honor's bouquet was of yellow marguerites.

The Parisian Princess bridal gown of the bride was of Charmeuse ivory with trimmings of hand embroidered white silk roses on a net ground, enwrought with pearls. This embroidery followed the graceful lines of the figure and completed the square train in rousing scallops. The sleeves, elaborately designed in point effect were outlined with pearls, and a yoke of fine tucked net also had a trimming of pearls. A veil enveloped the entire figure and fell in graceful folds with the train. She carried a bouquet of white roses and her veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaids were jade pendants, to be maid of honor a diamond ring.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church, at the home of the bride's parents. The house was very handsomely decorated, in the reception room the colors were white and pink and the flowers, Easter lilies and pink carnations. The dining room was in pink Killarney roses and green.

Mr. and Mrs. Towle were assisted in receiving by Major and Mrs. C. A. Roby and Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Towle.

Mrs. C. A. Roby the mother of the bride was gowned in white lace over white net, trimmed with chiffon and tassels.

Mrs. F. S. Towle the mother of the groom was attired in gray messaline with baby Irish yoke, pearl trimmings.

A wedding supper was served for which D. L. Page & Co., of Lowell, catered. During the reception at the house, French's orchestra furnished music.

Mr. and Mrs. Towle left later in the evening on a wedding trip as far as Washington; on their return will reside at No. 52 Richards, avenue, where they will be at home to friends May 26.

The brides going away gown was a tailor made blue suit with hat to match.

The wedding presents which were displayed at the home were numerous and costly and testify to the popularity of the contracting couple. The bride is a graduate of Commonwealth avenue school, Boston, and has been active in the social life of her native city. The groom is in business here and one of the most popular young men in this city.

A MINISTER ORDAINED

Tilton, April 29.—The ordination services of George J. Michaelson into the ministry will occur at the Christian church this evening. The council, made up of representatives of the Merrimack Christian conference, met at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon to pass upon certain matters relating to the acceptance of the new clergyman into the ministry. The session was private.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the ordination will occur and the public is invited. The Rev. Mr. Michaelson will be ordained a minister and will also be installed as pastor of the Franklin Christian church.

SCARLET FEVER AT NASHUA

Eleven pupils were sent home from the Mulberry street school on Wednesday and eight from the Spring street school by order of the board of health, who have been inquiring into the rumor that they had visited the home of Dennis Nash, 17 School street, where their schoolmate, Agnes Nash, lay dead from scarlet fever. Dr. Mulvanity, chairman of the board of health, says the Nash home was properly quarantined during the child's illness, but upon the death, the mother, apparently through ignorance of the law, allowed a number of children in.

IT'S ALWAYS BAD

The Best of Backs Are Bad When They Ache, and Portsmouth People Know It.

A bad back is always bad. And at night, when bedtime comes, it is as bad as in the morning. Ever try Doan's Kidney Pills for it?

Know they cure backache—cure every kidney ill. If you don't, some Portsmouth people do.

Read a case of it: Joseph Liberty, a retired farmer, 21 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "A sharp pain across the small of my back was the first symptom of kidney trouble in my case. Dizzy spells soon set in and whenever I caught cold, I was in misery. When I awoke mornings, I felt tired and my whole body was sore. When I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at Phillips' drug store. This remedy soon relieved me and I have used it on several occasions since with the same good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

WOODS FOR FURNITURE

Three Chief Periods Known to Those Who Collect.

HOW BROUGHT ABOUT

They Are the Oak, the Walnut and the Mahogany—New York's Rosewood Period—Apple Knot Bowls of Dutch Settlers—Woodenware of the Pioneers.

Among furniture specialists it is usual to divide their treasures into three periods, the oak, the walnut and the mahogany, leaving out many woods which were much used both in this country and in Europe and which are now deservedly prized.

Of course, during the seventeenth century in both this country and the parent one oak was the wood most used and sought. It was used in panelling and wainscoting, and the same mouldings which helped to render the walls bright were utilized in forming ornament for the chests, large chairs called wainscot chairs, tables and forms, which constituted the chief furniture of the house.

It was a stout substantial wood, and when you remember that all such objects were not finished—that is, were unvarnished or oiled—you can see how it acquired with years that black color which is now so highly prized and which is as different as possible from the dead black color which the forger of old furniture uses to stain his pieces.

When Charles II., indolent and fond of elegance, came to the throne in 1659 he demanded in accordance with his French training more comfort than was usual. Two years later his marriage to a Portuguese Princess still further increased the demand for choicer domestic articles than had been known in England, and they imported from Holland high class furniture made of walnut carved.

From this time on walnut rather crowded out oak. There were also imported from Flanders pieces of furniture carved and made of ebony or cedar, either copied from Chinese models by the clever Dutch or coming direct from the Orient.

Nor was America without her elegances, too, and from these same sources, as can be gleaned from the inventories which accompany the wills made by the rich vintners and which are the source from which we draw much information of how the Colonists lived and what they had. Lacquered furniture was brought here from the Low Countries also, as well as direct from the Orient, and many such pieces are treasured by the descendants of the old Dutch families who brought them here.

American cabinet makers were using black walnut, white oak, which is very different from the English oak; nutwood (hickory), maple, poplar and chestnut. There are collectors in this country who will not admit to their collections anything but American made furniture of oak and made prior to 1700.

In New England and at the South the largest supply of luxuries was found, though the Dutch settlements around Albany and up the Mohawk Valley were not far behind. A "plank table" sold in New England in 1646 for ten shillings, though red or white oak could be bought by the cord for three or four shillings. Sawmills were set up all over New England, the first in Portsmouth, in 1631.

In England rosewood was sometimes used for pianos and occasionally for inlay, but the French and Americans seem to have used it more extensively than the English. Indeed it is more a nineteenth century wood than an eighteenth, and its most famous worker in America was John Buller, whose shop was in New York city and who turned out many sets of beautiful carved rosewood furniture during the few years he was at work from 1814 to 1845 or 1849.

The use of apple wood for bowls has been mentioned and occasionally they are to be found still. One belonging to a rich Dutch group of subsequently was marked with her initials and the date 1764. It stands among slender silver feet and has a silver rim and the wood has acquired a beautiful polish from age and much rubbing.

The use of what was known as woodenware in the Colonies was widespread, and in the Diary of Matthew Patten he states in March, 1755, that he paid $2 for the turning of a wooden bowl, although he had furnished the knots himself. After the knots were turned the women of the household scraped the plates or bowls with bits of broken glass till they were made perfectly smooth. Then they were rubbed with sandpaper till they were fine as possible and of a beautiful light, yellowish-brown color. Americans called them knot bowls, but abroad they were called mazer bowls, were made from maple wood, sometimes came in sets of three, and were used to drink beer from.

Manufacturing Tinfoil.

In the manufacture of tinfoil a pipe is made of pure tin and this is filled with lead. The whole is then beaten out in the same manner as leaf is beaten, the tin coating spreading with the lead core. The three sheets are sometimes reduced to a thickness of .001 of an inch.

Making Good Makes Friends

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good"; and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards. A good, honest square-deal medicine of known composition is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that came into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for. Don't buy

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago.

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerveine it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

SEATS OF THE MIGHTY

Thrones On Which Monarchs Sit Sometimes:

BORED BY CEREMONY

Not Often Occupied if Royalty Can Help it in These Days—King Edward Has Half a Dozen—Gorgeous Seat of the Czar—Simple Thrones in Belgium, Italy and Morocco.

dozen thrones, of which three are in Great Britain has at least half a London palaces, one in the House of Lords, one in Westminster Abbey, and a sixth at Windsor Castle. Of these the most ancient is that in the Abbey, where each new ruler of the British Empire is crowned.

This coronation chair, as it is called, is a massive high backed throne of oak. No fewer than seven Edwards have sat in it. Underneath the seat is a large block of rough sandstone. This is the Stone of Scone, the emblem of power of the Scottish kings, who were for many generations enthroned upon it. Tradition makes it the stone pillow upon which the head of Jacob rested at Bethel.

In the House of Lords is the throne used by the king when opening or proroguing Parliament in state. It stands under a gilt canopy and is raised a few steps above the floor. It is of Burmese teak, carved and gilded and studded with crystals. On either side is a lower throne intended for their apparent and the Queen consort.

The throne in St. James's Palace is very large and imposing, with a canopy overlaid with crimson velvet and embellished with a bold relief of embroidered crowns, set with fine pearls and shimmering with bullion fringe. By far the most costly is the throne at Windsor Castle. It is composed entirely of carved ivory inlaid with precious stones, especially emeralds. It was presented to Queen Victoria by the Maharajah of Travancore, and was one of the most sumptuous gifts which even India ever gave her Empress. The throne room is a long narrow apartment near the Waterloo Chamber and so delicate is the rich blue splendor of the jeweled throne that it is usually kept covered with a great casing of plate glass.

The best known of the English thrones is the one at Buckingham Palace, where King Edward and the Queen hold their court today. The throne stands on a dais of massive masonry and is furnished with drapery and canopy of rich crimson velvet with the royal arms in heavy gold embroidery. It is at the foot of this throne that all presentations of debutantes are made.

One of the noblest throne rooms in the world is in the Berlin Palace of the German Emperor. The throne is of silver, with a canopy ornamented with eagles and crowns. Over the seat of the Emperor and Empress is an immense silver shield presented to Frederick William IV, by the people of Berlin, and just in front of the throne hangs the great rock crystal chandelier under which Luther himself once stood in the Reichstag at Worms.

It is hard to say offhand how many thrones the Russian Emperor has. The three chief ones are those at the Imperial Palace and the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg, and in the Kremlin at Moscow. This last was a present to the Czar Alexis in 1650 from the Shah of Persia. It is entirely covered with thick plates of gold set with precious stones and alternating with plaques of ivory chased in high relief. The fact and date of the presentation are recorded in an inscription on the back of the throne. Just above are glistening double headed eagles of Russia with angels on either side supporting the imperial crown.

In the Imperial Palace at St. Petersburg the throne stands in an alcove of the marble throne room, with a wide stretching canopy with thick gold cords and deep fringes of gold embroidery. On the curtains behind are embroidered the arms of the Romanoffs surmounted by the crown, with a curious star-shaped border all around. Three wide steps lead up to the throne.

Neither Sweden nor Belgium possesses a throne calling for special mention. In fact what does duty for the throne of King Leopold is merely a comfortable armchair in the chief reception room of the palace in Brussels. The Belgian King indeed, as all the world knows, has ever been more intent on commercial interests than mere regal show and ceremony.

The Turkish Sultan has several thrones, of which the principal is in the palace of Dolma-Bajtche. It is a seventeenth century work and was constructed for Abbas the Great. It is of pure white marble, which is habitually covered with the richest of gold and cashmere shawls. The Sultan when occupying it reclines against a cushion encased in a network of pearls.

Australia is rapidly increasing her imports of iron and steel machinery, and other engines, locomotives, electrical machinery and agricultural implements. The fact of the orders are going to Great Britain.

MILLS TO REOPEN

Rochester, April 28.—Cocheco woolen mills, which have been lying idle since last February, on account of trouble in the company, resume operations next Monday morning. This means a good deal to Rochester as there are 250 people employed in these mills.

After examining the books by experts, at the request of Mrs. Rindge, the heaviest owner, the mills closed, and for some time it looked as if they would lie idle for many years, and a large number of people that had been employed in the mills, secured work in other towns and cities and moved there.

The mills will start under the superintendency of Stephen C. Meader, who for many years has been agent of the Gonic mills, and has been a very successful one for the company. Mr. Meader is for a while to have charge of both mills, as they are controlled by the same company.

W. H. Bagley, who has been superintendent of the mills at East Rochester, will sever his connection with the mills on next Friday night, and as yet has not decided what business he will enter.

It is expected that a large number of those who went away and obtained jobs will return to East Rochester.

While the mill has been shut down a large number of improvements have been made. New floors were laid, boilers repaired over and a large amount of painting done.

WISCONSIN BASEBALL VICTORY

Won From High School Team at Plains on Wednesday Afternoon

The baseball team from the Wisconsin and the High school played a game at the Plains on Wednesday afternoon and it was an easy win for the sailors. The High school team was not a strictly school team as this is not in their regular schedule and they used Quinn in the box in the last few innings and although it was his first game he was very effective. The sailors caught on to the pitching of Hodgdon in the beginning and in the fourth inning pounded out six runs.

SUIT TO BE REOPENED?

The Manchester Mirror had the following despatch dated this city, Wednesday.

The famous $50,000 alienation suit of Mrs. Addie Hoxie, wife of "Portsmouth's best dressed man," against Mrs. Arthur W. Walker of Boston and this city, wife of the late millionaire coal magnate, is to be reopened.

The story of the coming action leaked out at the fashionable reception of the Vincent Club last evening. It was there made evident that, although the first action ended adversely for the plaintiff Mrs. Hoxie, has never given up the idea of again bringing the case before the courts.

THEATRICAL TOPICS

Next Week at Keith's

The week of May 3 at Keith's Theatre in Boston will be notable for two of the biggest productions that has probably ever been seen in vaudeville. The first is "The Top of the World" Dancers and the Collie Ballet in "Kiss Kringle's Dream." This is a beautiful dancing and singing spectacle that was put on in New York a week ago and made a tremendous hit. The company is a large one and the ballet is one of the best seen in recent years. The entire production is made up of novelties that are at once pretty and entertaining.

The second big feature will be in the dramatic line. It is called "The Van Dyck" and will be presented by Mr. Harrison Hunter and a capable company. It is a one act classic, probably the most pretentious literary work ever presented in vaudeville.

The adaptation is made by the great English playwright, Cosmo Gordon Lennox, from the French original of Eugene Fourrier Perinque. The playlet has been set in six different countries which gives it the distinction of being called an international dramatic triumph. "The Van Dyck" was presented in London as a curtain raiser by Mr. Beer-horn Tree, and in New York last season it served to bring Mr. Arnold Daly into prominence.

The vaudeville features of the bill will be of the same high order including Melville & Higgins in their humorous sketch; Will H. Fox; Carroll Johnson; O'Brien Havel & Company in a sketch that has been making a great success; Monie Mine, Newhold and Carroll and others.

Footlight Flashes

A new play of the homely type has the attractive title of Silver Threads. Carter De Haven and his wife, Flora Parker, will begin a vaudeville tour in the west.

Clarence Handyside is to be featured in a musical production in New York this summer.

Frank Curzon has cabled from London to Maurice Campbell, the manager of Miss Henrietta Crossman, for the English rights to Sham.

Andrew Mack will play a few more weeks in vaudeville and then he will rest at Buzzard's Bay for the summer. In the fall he will begin another season of legitimate Irish comedy.

Maude Adams and her company gave a performance of What Every Woman Knows, at New Haven in aid of the fund for building a theater at Yale for college dramatics. The audience cheered her, and the president of the Yale Dramatic Society announced from a box her election as an honorary member of the society, and presented her with a medal.

Mr. Butler Davenport is to have a theater in New York, next door to the New Theater, only of more modest proportions, but with much the same plan. Mr. Davenport will install a stock company in present modern plays by American authors. The company will be headed by Miss Mary Shaw. Mr. Davenport says that the venture is an individual one and is not associated with any of the managers.

The Schuberts have secured the American rights to a new German comedy called Gretchen. It will be produced in its English version next season. The Schuberts have also secured The Phina Ballerina, a new comic opera, which the German critics call another Merry Widow. It is also credited with the additional merit of being clean amusement. The author and composer is Felix

Schwartz. Some friends in San Francisco gave Miss Percy Haswell a pleasant surprise when she appeared there with O. Skinner in The Honor of the Family. When she entered her dressing room at the theater she found it a veritable fairy bower of flowers—apple blossoms, carnations, sweet peas, calla lilies, ivy, delicate trailing vines, pink and white japonicas, adding an original touch with dolls and umbrellas, which made it a perfect picture of spring loveliness. The notices of the star and performances were highly laudatory, Miss Haswell sharing honors with Mr. Skinner. The season will close about June, and then Miss Haswell will go to her summer home at Siasconset for a rest until August when she will begin rehearsals for Foreign Exchange in which she will have the leading part, later on appearing as a star in a new play.

INSURE YOUR COMPLEXION.

It is easily done. Winter winds bring out all the imperfections of the skin. A clear, transparent complexion is the pride and delight of all women. In order to have this, it is necessary to put the skin in a healthy condition to repel the ravages caused by the chilling, cutting blasts of such winters as we are subject to in this climate. No woman can help feeling ill at ease when in company, when she feels that the blemishes on her face may be commented upon by her friends, and it does not help matters any when she looks in a mirror and sees her face as others see it. Many resort to the massage treatment, which only makes the flesh soft and flabby and increases the growth of a fine uzzy hair; others use beauty creams, which clog the pores of the skin, preventing them from doing their work properly, thereby producing pimples, blackheads, blotches, etc. The One Night cures cannot be reliable. Common sense teaches that you cannot eradicate from the flesh in one night a disease that has been gaining ground steadily for months. Nothing should be used on the face of an oily or greasy nature, they may perhaps afford temporary relief, but eventually make the skin dry, hard and liable to crack. This can be easily avoided by using the following prescription which will positively remove pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, sunburns, chapped hands, lips and face, and all eruption of the skin, and really produces what a woman loves best a soft, clear and transparent complexion. This can be secured by using the following prescription, which can be procured at any Drug Store for a small amount and is well worth trying. Clearola one-half ounce, Ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces, mix and apply twice a day (only night and morning) allowing to remain on the parts affected as long as possible. Do not use any soap in washing, instead use a little oatmeal tied up in a cheese cloth bag, and luke warm water. If you are afflicted with this disagreeable disease, do not fail to try it.

There will be a city meeting this evening, when considerable business is to come up.

If you haven't time to exercise regularly, Doan's Regulents will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, healthful action of the bowels without gripping. Ask your druggist for them. 25c.

TAFT AND BALLINGER

Disagreement of President and Secretary of Interior

Washington, April 28.—President Taft has had his first clash with a member of his cabinet. As the facts leak to the public, it was so warm that there was some danger for a while of his having a new secretary of the interior. Everything is not yet altogether serene, for it remains to be shown whether the restoration of about 5,000,000 acres of public lands to entry during April is giving the water power trust any golden opportunities.

One man of national reputation was not offered a place in the cabinet because he had been identified with the water power trust, and the information about the restoration of public lands to entry in the Rocky mountain region was put before the president in a way that aroused his ire. President Roosevelt had caused these lands to be withdrawn in the belief that he was saving valuable water powers and minerals from being gobbled up by monopolies, as, according to reports, had been done with such properties in the Sierras.

The president investigated the matter far enough to see that 21 bulletins withdrawing lands had been issued by Secretary Ballinger, and that these affected lands in states all the way from the northern border down to the territory of New Mexico. Then he sent for Secretary Ballinger and they had it out. The secretary was instructed to issue no more orders restoring lands to the public domain till they had been examined by the geological survey for water power and minerals.

Secretary Ballinger claimed that he had been unable to find any law that warranted the withdrawal of the lands by President Roosevelt, but this did not satisfy President Taft.

PETTY BURGLARY

Another Break at Chadwick's During Wednesday night.

Some time during Wednesday night or early this morning, the shop of Chadwick and Trefethen, on Bow street, was entered by thieves. The first attempt was to force an entrance in the front part of the salesroom, by breaking a window, but later went to the window on Linden street, where they smashed the glass and unhooked the catch. On the inside they found they could not get into the office or at the show counter, where they no doubt would have removed some of the firearms.

Nothing of any value is now missing, unless it may be that they took some tools.

The police have some good headway on the mystery.

NEW ADJUTANT GENERAL

For the National Guard of the State of Maine

Augusta, April 29.—Governor Fernald announces that the resignation of Major General Augustus F. Farnham as adjutant general is accepted to take effect at noon, May 1. Colonel Eliott C. Dill of Portland, chief of ordnance is promoted to adjutant general with rank of major general to rank for May 1, 1909.

Major John J. Doolay of Portland, assistant chief of ordnance is promoted to chief of ordnance with rank of colonel.

Col. Albert M. E. of the company of Brunswick is promoted to be assistant chief of ordnance, with the rank of major.

Gen. Farnham is probably the best man who will ever be officially connected with the Maine National Guard who has a Civil War record and his is one of the best. It has been noticeable to all that his health has been failing steadily for some time past and while his resignation at this particular time comes as a genuine surprise yet it was only a question of time when it must come. Governor Fernald issues an official statement of regrets at Gen. Farnham's retirement and appreciation of his services.

EVELYN THAW'S PROPERTY

New York, April 29.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw did not appear before Judge McAvoy in the City Court yesterday, although summoned to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt.

She had failed to appear in supplementary proceedings following her neglect to satisfy a judgment covering an unpaid millinery bill for $253.29.

All that happened was the filing of papers by O'Reilly, Weil & Weil, legal representatives of Mrs. Thaw, in support of their contention that the entire proceeding is invalidated by an error in the affidavit upon which the order was granted.

This alleged error was the failure to state that Mrs. Thaw was a resident of the city of New York at the time execution was issued.

Decision was reserved.

Let us hope that the first of May will bring with it warmer weather.

GUILD FOR TURKEY?

Boston, April 29.—News dispatches from Washington hint at a possible appointment of ex-Governor Curtis Guild to a foreign ambassadorship. The first report was to the effect that he was to be ambassador to Italy. A prompt denial was made. Some of the governor's friends have now come to the conclusion that the best opportunity for him will be as ambassador to Turkey.

As Mr. Guild is away on a business trip it has not been possible to secure from him a statement as to his willingness to hold the diplomatic job at Constantinople if it should be offered to him.

At the headquarters of the republican state machine, officials say they know nothing about the appointment, but they frankly add they have no doubt that the former governor would be pleased to receive such distinguished recognition as the proffer of an ambassadorial position.

MEN KILLED IN CHICAGO FIRE

Chicago, April 29.—One man was killed, three are missing and a score were injured and property valued at $1,000,000 destroyed in a fire which broke out early today in Elevator B, of the Illinois Central at the foot of South Water street.

The dead man was Fire Lieutenant McEllicott, who was killed by falling walls. It is thought that three missing firemen are buried in the ruins.

Fanned by a stiff northeast gale the flames and sparks were carried for blocks over the immediate neighborhood and efforts of the firemen were concentrated in an effort to keep it from spreading.

The building was filled with wheat, corn and rye. The exact amount of grain in the structure is not known at this time and it is feared that the loss will run far over the first estimate.

The destroyed elevator was about 75 feet high, 125 feet long and 50 feet wide.

The fire originated in the basement, presumably in the boiler room.

RAILROAD INSPECTION

President Tuttle and Party Go Over the Eastern Lines

Portland, April 29.—A party of railroad officials arrived here on Wednesday and began inspection of the property of the Boston & Maine and the Maine Central railroads on Commercial street. In the party was President Lucius Tuttle of the Boston & Maine, the chief engineer and about ten other officials connected with the individual superintendents' offices the maintenance of way department. They left Boston early in the morning in a special train and rode over the Eastern division. A large amount of construction work has been undertaken upon the eastern and western divisions during the past year and it was decided to make a rear-observation. In a number of places on the eastern division considerable double track has been laid and the line has been placed in good condition. A number of safety appliances have also been instituted at the stations and along the tracks and these came in for observation.

On the arrival of the train at the Commercial street yard the entire party alighted and inspected the various premises including the so-called gridiron of death. The bridges in the vicinity also came in for observation and the legal members of the party were also interested.

A trip was made to the Union station and in the afternoon the return trip was made over the eastern division as far as North Berwick thence via the western division where the inspection is to be continued. The western division has also been improved in a number of respects and a large addition of double track has been laid during the past year.

This is the first trip made over the lines in this direction by President Tuttle for some time past but at no time has he been accompanied by the number of assistants that he was on Wednesday.
